Reflection | Application | Discussion

Week of March 29

Resilience is being wise enough to welcome the correction that keeps us rooted in Christ..

DISCUSSION & PRAYER (PHILIPPIANS 4:6-7)

DISCOVERY TEXT

1 Corinthians 5:1-13

REFLECTION Listening for God

- 1. Inside vs. Outside: Paul says in 1 Cor 5:12 that we shouldn't judge "outsiders" but we should judge "insiders." Why is it so easy to do the opposite, to be judgmental toward the world but hesitant to speak truth to our friends in the church?
- 2. Colder vs. Hotter: In a game of "Colder/Hotter," someone helps another person find an object by telling them if they are getting "colder" (further away) or "hotter" (closer to the object). Is the person being mean when they say, "colder"? How can this help us understand giving and receiving correction within the Church?

APPLICATION Following Him

- 1. Inviting Insight: Building a resilient life involves letting our guard down. Is there someone in your life whom you trust enough to ask for corrective insight? What are some specific questions you might ask them?
- 2. Fostering a Culture: We want New Day to be a Christ-centered culture of healing. What do you think giving corrective feedback looks like in a healthy church culture? What about receiving corrective feedback? What can you do to be better at giving and receiving correction?
